

SILENT AUCTION

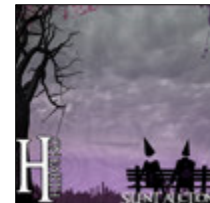

A band to watch as they emerge from the underground, creating a stunning combination of catchy tunes, edgy lyrical sarcasm, and quality electronic production... Yes, Silent Auction, along with new partner Nilaihah Records, is ready for you to hear an experience you won't forget. With both radio friendly lyrics and pop culture melodies, Silent Auction works to create a fusion between the underground & mainstream, building a bridge between both worlds through music. Expect an edge of sharp Synthpop and cynicism sure to get any audience bouncing.

Based in Rochester, New York, Silent Auction is an electronic trio composed of Jason Barbero, Terri Barbero and Brendan Bulson, writing Electro/Synthpop with heavy Trance, Industrial and Pop influences. As they work within the ideals of traditional song structures, they incorporate dance landscapes known throughout the sub-culture and Alternative and Dance genres.

After several previous releases, Silent Auction released the 'GoodGirl' Remix CD in December 2009, which featured not only the radio single of "GoodGirl" plus remixes, but also the singles "OK" and "Mistletoe." This EP sold out within weeks of its release!

Now, after recently joining Nilaihah Records, Silent Auction has released their long awaited album 'H on Earth.' Featuring songs such as the deliciously sarcastic track "GoodGirl," the heartfelt and moving "Beautiful Mess," and gear-shifting, thrill ride "Fast Lane," the new album was released on July 6, 2010. Mastered by Andreas Meyer (Yo Yo Ma, The Feelies) and remixes by mind.in.a.box and Cosmicity.
